

GET DEGREES AT THE UNIVERSITY

List of the Graduates in the Academic and Engineering Departments.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., June 13.—Commencement week at the University of Virginia was ushered in tonight by class exercises held on the north front of the rotunda. The members of the graduating classes gave a representation of a general faculty meeting, various graduates impersonating different members of the faculty. The student body proved very clever and created much merriment among the spectators.

Following the class exercises there was a brilliant torchlight procession of the graduates on the lawn. Much red fire was burned and the sight was a pretty one.

Before the exercises of the evening concluded "V's" were awarded by the General Athletic Association to certain members of the football, baseball, track and basketball squads.

The following lists of graduates in the academic and engineering departments were made public to-day:

Nomination of Taft Conceded.

Aside from these outward phases of convention activity, the serious thoughts of the leaders continue to turn on the balloting ahead, first on the presidency, then on the vice-presidency, and finally on the adoption of the party's platform pronouncement to the country. As to the presidential nomination the figures presented by the Taft men, and to some extent conceded by the other elements, give the secretary such a commanding lead that the usual spirit of a close contest is wanting. As ex-Governor Herck, of Ohio, said to-night:

"So far as the presidential nomination is concerned, the leaders consider it settled—settled beyond the shadow of a doubt—and Mr. Taft will be nominated on the first ballot by a considerable majority. This is not a mere claim, it is the statement of an established fact."

Governor Herck added that while some contest might be presented to the credentials committee, yet the preliminary rulings by the national committee on these contests had been so eminently judicial and with such practical unanimity, that the credentials committee would undoubtedly uphold the careful work which the national committee had already done.

That a spirit of harmony is abroad was indicated by the statement that Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, who has been one of the leading strategists of the anti-Taft forces, is now counseling them not to carry their contests further before the committee on credentials.

As to Vice-Presidency.

The presidential nomination having failed to develop a contest likely to thrill the convention, the vice-presidential contest has come forward as a real factor of doubt, promising to keep the convention on the keen edge of expectancy until the final ballot is taken. The most sagacious of the political prophets frankly admit to-night that the question of naming the Vice-President is "all in the air." Some of the most promising boomers are now dormant; other boomers have made their appearance only to be denied or laughed out of existence. With the positive declaration of Governor Hughes that he would not take the nomination under any circumstances, the New York men have been trying without much success to get together on some name, for if they can do this there appears to be a strong tendency in the Middle West to join forces with the New York delegation.

For Benefit of Window Fund.

A large attendance witnessed the presentation of "Ye Dearest Sister of Ye Olden Times" in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall, for the benefit of the window fund of the Seventh Street Christian Church, on Friday night.

The committee was composed of Messrs. John Tyler, Fred Carr and Gordon Wright. Mr. O. A. Hawkins acted as schoolmaster.

Mrs. Honesuckie, the Honesuckie Twins, Theodore Roosevelt and Job Johnson were the most amusing characters of the cast, which was as follows:

Mrs. Honesuckie, Patience Perkins, Prudence Short, Obadiah Silekitt, Andrew Carnegie, Fredericka Brown, Thomas Lawson, Cynthia Long, Mary Jane Higgins, Melchizedek Buckstep, David Richardson, Naomi Piffer, Samantha Simpson, Polly Primrose, Teddy Roosevelt, John Crutchedfield, Job Johnson, E. H. Harriman, Josiah Scrammer, Hazekiah Beachtop, Simon Piper, Keziah Pettibone, Willie Simple, Mabelia Schermahorn, Arabella Hop, Mary Ann Honesuckie, Arabella Hop Honesuckie and their only "little bubber," Ezekiel Jerediah Honesuckie.

MUCH BUILDING IN CITIES OF SOUTH

Reports for the Month of May Show Increased Activity in Most Places.

BALTIMORE, MD., June 13.—Southern and Southwestern building operations during May, as noted by the Manufacturers' Record, were fairly active as compared with the previous month, some localities showing an increase both in the number of permits issued and the cost of buildings, while there was a decrease in others. Covering a period which included the flood days, the city building inspector of Baltimore, issued 124 permits during the month, representing an expenditure of $3,812,000. These included thirteen brick structures, seventy-one frame buildings, thirty-four additions and repairs, and six miscellaneous buildings.

Permits were issued in Fort Worth, Tex., for structures representing an expenditure of $125,000, including a hotel to cost $15,000 each; three store buildings and a number of other structures. In Austin, Tex., during the month for structures to cost about $50,000 in the aggregate. For new buildings and improvements, permits were issued in San Antonio, Tex., representing a valuation of $167,015.

During the month 345 permits were issued in Kansas City, Mo., for structures estimated to cost in the aggregate $777,595. As compared with May, 1907, these figures show a decrease of 53 in the number of permits issued and a decrease of $302,523 in the value of the buildings. The total estimated cost of building in St. Louis, Mo., during the month amounted to $1,580,767, as compared with $1,583,758 during May, 1907.

Permits were issued for nine business structures, involving an expenditure of $15,500, and for seventy-seven dwellings, estimated to cost $148,190, making a total of 86 permits issued, representing a valuation of $273,833. The value of business operations in St. Louis, during the month, amounted to $273,833, as compared with $255,490 for May, 1907, and in Chattanooga at $128,450, as compared with $112,720 during May, 1907.

There was a decided falling off in the number of permits issued in Savannah, Ga., during the month, but construction work was going on in the city. The estimated cost of new improvements for which permits were issued in Baltimore, Md., during May amounted to $367,954.90 and, for additions and repairs, to $34,925.

NOT THROUGH YET

Grand Jury Will Resume Investigation Tomorrow Morning.

After spending several hours yesterday further investigating the rebate and distillery cases, the Federal grand jury asked the court for an adjournment until tomorrow morning, when consideration of these matters will be resumed. Judge Waddill accordingly adjourned the jury until 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, and it is thought that an additional, if not a final, report will be made during the day.

Nothing was said to indicate what went on in the jury room yesterday, but it is understood that the greater portion of the session was devoted to the consideration of the Fair Oaks distillery case, in which the company, with purchasing more corn than its reports to the government indicated. The witnesses appearing were called from the following list summoned on the previous day:

E. D. Beveridge, of the firm of S. T. Beveridge & Company, grain merchants; Thomas Whitte, of T. W. Wood & Sons; W. T. Selden, manager of the Adams Grain and Provision Company; Edwin Cox, manager of Simpson, Baker & Company; W. J. Green, of day and grain merchants; John T. Anderson, of John T. Anderson's Sons; Samuel M. Chappell, chief clerk at the Ninth Street station of the Chesapeake and Ohio grain elevator; R. T. Jennings, connected with the Chesapeake and Ohio grain elevator; William Willis, employed by the Stephens A. Ellison Company, Inc., coal dealer.

W. R. Johnston, the Richmond grain dealer, who has been indicted for alleged violation of the sections of the interstate commerce act forbidding rebates in freight shipments, went before Judge Waddill, and renewed his bail for appearance in court on October 5th, which will be the first day of the fall term. The temporary bond originally given by Johnston was for $25,000, and an executed yesterday was for $10,000. Messrs. Jacob and Alvey, Mr. Johnston's original bondsmen, again furnished the security, which was promptly approved by the court.

All other cases related cases were set for the first day of the fall term, which is October 5th. It is not believed they will come to trial before the latter part of the term.

Dora White Convicted.

Dora White, colored, was convicted in the United States Court yesterday upon the charge of sending obscene matter through the mail, and was fined $50 by Judge Waddill. She was committed to the jail at Fredericksburg in default of the payment of the fine.

NEW COMMISSIONER

Judge Waddill Names Mr. Henry Flegenhelm, of Richmond.

Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., of the United States District Court, yesterday appointed Mr. Henry Flegenhelm, of this city, commissioner for his court in Richmond.

Mr. Flegenhelm succeeds Mr. Joseph P. Brady, who relinquished the position on account of his heavy duties as clerk of the Eastern District Court here and at Norfolk. Mr. Brady succeeded Mr. Flegenhelm when he was appointed some years ago. The order appointing Mr. Flegenhelm, which was entered yesterday, became effective at once.

POWERS OUT AFTER YEARS IN PRISON

tor, his assassin and the campaign of proscription waged by his partisans after his death were replete with dramatic situations and crowded with interesting actors who played important parts; but of all the participants none, not even Goebel himself, focussed public attention more clearly than Caleb Powers, the Republican secretary of state.

Powers has been fighting with a halter around his neck for eight years. During all that time he has lain largely in the power of his political opponents, the majority of those who were engaged in prosecuting him being partisans of Goebel. These opponents were surrounded by a horde of witnesses and detectives and, backed by the $50,000 reward fund which the Goebel Democrats in the legislature voted from the public treasury to secure conviction of the murderer.

Four times Powers had been tried for his life, the last trial resulting in a hung jury. At the hour Goebel was assassinated in Frankfort Powers was some 20 miles away on a train bound for Louisville, Ky., where he intended raising a second "peaceful army" to protest against what seemed to be a certain course of the legislature in proceeding to oust Governor Taylor and seat Goebel on contested proceedings. He returned to Frankfort and remained there during the stormy days that culminated in the installation of Goebel as governor upon his death bed.

Soon after, seeing the trend of events, Powers and a Frankfort policeman attempted to leave the capital by stealth. They were caught and, when given preliminary arraignment, produced pardons signed by Taylor and dated prior to Goebel's installation and covering the government's installation in the Northside Baptist Church, in which the Kentucky court of appeals as legal, those produced by Powers and his companion were claimed to be void, and they were cited by Goebel men as additional evidence of the guilt of the accused.

Then followed during the course of eight years four legal battles, which served to reveal the intensity of the hatred aroused by the memorable struggle for the governorship. James B. Howard, alleged to be the man who actually fired the shot that killed Goebel, was under a life sentence.

Howard leaves for home.

FRANKFORT, KY., June 13.—Following the announcement of the pardons Howard was immediately released from his confinement here. He has been confined there since April 2, 1906. He left soon after his release for Louisville. A great crowd was assembled to witness his departure.

"I am deeply grateful that I am at last free after all these years of imprisonment without just cause. I am glad to see the people of Kentucky and to see the man who actually fired the shot that killed Goebel, was under a life sentence."

"HOME TO MY OLD MOTHER"

This the First Thought of Powers—To Re-enter Practice of Law.

GEORGETOWN, N. C., June 13.—Caleb Powers, who was pardoned by Governor Wilson, gave out a statement from his hotel here, in which he says:

"The decision of Governor Wilson to the effect that I am entitled to my liberty, after all these years of imprisonment without just cause, is a great relief to me. I am glad to see the people of Kentucky and to see the man who actually fired the shot that killed Goebel, was under a life sentence."

"I am going home to my old mother, and will remain there a few weeks in the hope of regaining my health. If my health is sufficiently recovered, I will re-enter the practice of law in my home town, Barboursville, Ky., unless something much better presents itself between now and then."

Asked if he meant to re-enter politics, Powers said: "I don't mention politics. To all those who have aided me in any way since the inception of my trouble, I again express my lasting gratitude."

Righteous, Says Exiled Governor.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 13.—William S. Taylor, former Governor of Kentucky, and now a fugitive in this city, where he has been hiding since he was charged with the murder of Governor Goebel, made this comment when he learned of the pardons:

"The pardon of Caleb Powers and James B. Howard is a most righteous act. Never before in the history of this country have two men suffered more unjustly."

The Keysville Election.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
KEYSVILLE, KY., June 13.—The town election here passed very quietly. Out of a total of thirty-three qualified voters, only eleven were present. The voters were elected Mayor and a majority of eleven. # CROWDED CAR JUMPS TRACK Much Excitement, But No Serious Injury, at Broad and Harrison Streets.

Crowded with people returning from the ball game yesterday afternoon, a car on the Broad Street line jumped the track at Harrison Street, and struck a car on the Clay Street line. A serious accident was narrowly averted. The collision was caused by the spreading of the switch into Harrison Street. Instead of remaining as fixed, the point of the switch in some manner was thrown to the center of the track, causing the car to jump and to slightly sideswipe the Clay Street car. The only damage resulting, besides numerous broken windows, was a slight injury to a small boy's arm, which amounted to nothing more than a bruise. The car was soon put back upon the track, and proceeded on its way.

DEAD ARE IT WAS JOHNSON'S BODY

Among those who viewed the remains of Russell Johnson, whose body was disinterred near Taylorsville, Hanover county, several cases of the young man's identity were expressed as to its identity. Mr. F. Stanley, who was one of the witnesses at the disinterment, stated yesterday afternoon that, judging from his descriptions given to him and from his own recollection of the young man, the body was certainly that of Russell Johnson. The other witnesses are ready to testify to the same thing, and Constable Burch also declares that he can prove his statements.

Mrs. Johnson left the city yesterday morning for her old home in Buckingham county.
